COURT DAY.—The crowd was fairly large Monday and the merchants generally report a good trade in light clothing.

There were a good many males, which were held at the prevailing high prices for fees, prices are so high that there is slight inducement to buyers to purchase on speculation, and sales generally to those who need them for the coming season's work.

Cattle were at the usual spring advance, which is sufficient to strongly discount the profit of the season.

Hogs were current at 40c.

Among the sales reported are:—Robert Harrison sold a pair of mules of Richard May for $225.

Robert Harrison sold a horse to Carlisle for $100.

John Thacker sold a cow and calf to Alex. Conner for $45.

S. S. Shurt sold a horse of Hedin's for $100 and sold a horse for $125.

No Tobacco in 1907.—The tobacco growers of the White River district, which comprises about 49 counties in Central and Northern Kentucky, including Fayette and the adjacent Blue Grass counties, are agitating the adoption of a novel plan to break the power of the Tobacco Trust.

It is a cutting short of an agreement to cut out the tobacco crop and the way of the supporters of the movement is as open for 1907.

This is a radical step, but it is believed by those in the trust to judge that it will be the most effective remedy that can be employed.

The following is an excerpt from a letter from the pen of G. P. Harris, Assessor of Carroll county, and a large tobacco grower, which is being circulated throughout the Blue River district.

The tobacco crop mentioned does not require any money, but it requires a determination on the part of every land owner to agree to an agreement to raise or have raised any tobacco on his land in 1907 or 1908.
